Meet, connect and do business

Be part of the education building forum and have unprecedented access to a host of key decision-makers involved in the design, build and management of academies, free schools, primary and secondary schools, colleges and universities.

Over one-and-a-half days you'll benefit from a tailored schedule of one-to-one meetings with architects, contractors, project managers, local authority trusts, school leaders, estates and facilities departments.

In its seventh year now, the ebf is a professional yet informal event where relationships are extended through our social programme - yes, business can be friendly and enjoyable too!

Time to focus

The premise of the ebf is to create the ideal networking environment. Away from day-to-day distractions; the immersive nature of the event allows people to focus completely on the meeting/networking activities leading to better, more memorable and meaningful relationships.

Types of project areas...

arts & performance areas, auditoria, classrooms, communal spaces, ICT suites, dining spaces, libraries, plant areas, outdoor sports & play areas, science labs, sports buildings/ gyms.

Our project delegates want to meet with suppliers of...

access & entry systems, acoustic walls, cladding & roofing, cubicles, doors, energy systems, fire safety & security, fitness equipment, floors & ceilings, furniture, HVAC, ICT, insulation, lighting, lockers, modular building, shelters & canopies, sports buildings, sports surfaces, windows, washrooms and many more.

A great opportunity to do business within a growing sector

The Government confirmed £23bn capital investment in schools over the next five years in the Spending Review and Autumn Statement. The spend will include 500 new free schools, the provision of over 600,000 additional school places across the country, giving families more choice.

Supplementing this pipeline of projects, the Priority School Building Programme continues to work through its schedule of improvements to schools in the worst physical condition, enhancing facilities ranging from classrooms and multi-purpose halls to drama studios. Over the two phases of the PSBP, 537 schools will be improved in schemes worth a total of £4.4bn.

What the project delegates had to say...

"A really informative event, well thought out and absolutely the right target audience. Time is of the essence and researching suppliers is incredibly time consuming. Over the one-and-a-half days I met with 22 potential suppliers - time well spent." Marches Academy

"Another excellent event. As the recession becomes a dim memory and the construction sector is busier than ever, increasing the supply chain is vital to continued growth. The ebf provided us with an excellent range of high-quality supplier delegates." Bolt & Heeks Ltd

What the suppliers had to say...

"A thoroughly worthwhile use of our time, wonderfully organised event with high quality delegates that allows us to pitch our company's products and ethos in an informal yet business-like environment. A fantastic networking and lead-sourcing event." Fawns Playtime

"We met some great contacts and got involved with assisting CIF bids on the day of the event. Excellent way to find new opportunities and create new relationships without the risk of a traditional style exhibition." Pinnacle Furniture
